

The first and most important thing to be done is to get down to the bottom of the matter. It is not enough to say that the thing is done. It is necessary to know what has been done, and how it has been done. It is necessary to know the facts of the case, and to know the reasons for the facts. It is necessary to know the law, and to know how to apply the law to the facts. It is necessary to know the character of the person or persons involved, and to know how to deal with them. It is necessary to know the character of the thing, and to know how to deal with it. It is necessary to know the character of the situation, and to know how to deal with it.
It is necessary to know the character of the problem, and to know how to deal with it.
It is necessary to know the character of the solution, and to know how to deal with it.
